RELEASE #044-04

Search warrant executed at home in Navy housing area

PEARL HARBOR - At about 7:00 p.m. last night, agents from the Naval Criminal Investigative Service, Drug Enforcement Administration, Hawai'i Department of Public Safety narcotics enforcement division and the Honolulu Police Department's special services division executed a federal search warrant on a home in the Radford Terrace Navy family housing area.

Agents had reason to believe that the residence contained controlled substances, related paraphernalia and a clandestine laboratory used to manufacture crystal methamphetamine. A Navy Sailor, her civilian husband, and a third civilian were taken into custody.
